

The whole world is moving away from Net Zero. The whole world, that is, except for the ideologues in government in Australia.

Q: why would we implement policies that raise costs dramatically for people and businesses in the middle of the worst cost-of-living squeeze in the nation's history?

Please refer to the following sources. They are government and mainstream media sources.

The point is: the country is just now trying to recover from hysteria-led policies related to Covid. THE WORLD HEALTH AUTHORITIES NOW ACKNOWLEDGE THAT THE VIRUS WAS NO MORE DEADLY THAN THE FLU, AND THAT THE CONTAINMENT POLICIES COST MORE LIVES THAN THEY SAVED.

So why would we want to jump straight to more hysteria-based policy decisions about climate?

Sources:

<https://resistanceactionaustralia.substack.com/p/crash-test-dummy-australia>

<https://resistanceactionaustralia.substack.com/p/the-emissions-of-john-kerry>

<https://resistanceactionaustralia.substack.com/p/there-must-be-something-in-the-water>